

Test Prep Information

Lots of options exist to help you prep for the ACT/SAT/PSAT. Some options are free, some cost money; some are online and some are in-person classes. Take a look at the options below and decide what is best for you!

- ACT Test Prep – question of the day, the Real ACT Prep Guide, etc.
- SAT Test Prep – sample test questions, practice tests and Official SAT Study Guide, etc.
- PSAT Test Prep – sample questions and a paper-and-pencil practice
- Kaplan Test Prep – bootcamps, info sessions and free practice tests to help you prepare for the PSAT, ACT or SAT
- LEAP Program – in person test prep option for ACT and SAT
- Torch Prep – offers bootcamps to prepare for standardized tests
- ACT and SAT Question and Answer service – for some test dates, students have the opportunity to purchase their test booklet and answer sheet from the ACT and/or SAT. Students can then see exactly which questions they missed and can study those areas for the next test date. Check ACT and College Board’s websites for more information.
- Khan Academy – a free online tutoring service that has paired up with College Board to offer test prep services for the SAT. In addition to test prep, you can receive help in a number of different subject areas, including math, science, history, English.
- March2Success – offers test prep courses, practice questions to help students prepare for standardized tests
- Sylvan Prep – Take a free practice test and then receive personalized guidance on how to improve your score. Call 513-755-4949 to register for a free practice test. Visit their website for information on test prep courses.
- Test Preparation and Review Classes at UC – University of Cincinnati offers PSAT, ACT and SAT test prep. Courses cost $159.
- Magoosh – online test prep option for students preparing for ACT or SAT. You have access to practice questions, video lessons and tutors.